PAY LAST HONOR TO GEN. HUNTON

Military Organizations Ordered Out for Funeral This Afternoon.

SERVICES AT ST. PAUL'S

Brigadier's Salute Will Be Fired Over Grave in Hollywood Cemetery.

Military honors will mark the funeral of Brigadier-General E. Lee Hunton, which takes place from St. Paul's Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, orders having been issued for the attendance of all of the militia in Richmond. R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, will act as the honorary escort, and a salute of eleven guns will be fired by the Richmond Howitzers over the grave in Hollywood Cemetery.

Arrangements for the funeral were completed yesterday by Judge C. Carter Scott and Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson, acting for the family, the latter being chief marshal. General Anderson has requested Second Lieutenant John D. Armistead, of the Blues, to report to him for mounted duty on his staff.

Tribute to Gallant Soldier. General Anderson issued yesterday a general order, requesting the military organizations in Richmond to participate in paying the last tribute of respect, forwarding to Major Hunton Chry, commanding the First Battalion, Virginia Infantry, the following letter: "The Blues, commander of the Blues Battalion, and to Captain W. M. Meyers, commanding the Richmond Howitzers, the following letter: "Sir—I have the honor to request the detail of your command for 4 P. M. October 13, to form part of a funeral escort composed of the Virginia Volunteers stationed at Richmond, in honor of the late Brigadier-General E. Lee Hunton, a most distinguished officer of the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia, who was the last, save one, of the Virginia Convention of 1867, a member of Congress, a United States Senator, and who also filled with great credit his country and to himself many other responsible posts of honor and trust in the service of the Commonwealth of Virginia."

In response to this communication orders were issued by the three commanding officers in Richmond for their commands to assemble at the Howitzers at 3 o'clock this afternoon in dress uniform. Owing to the loss of many of the uniforms by fire on the recent Northern trip the Blues will not wear their full dress, but the regulation uniform.

The military will form on Grace Street, the right resting on Fifth and will move from there to the house, No. 8 West Franklin Street, from which point Lee Camp will take the head of the column as honorary escort. St. Paul's Church, of which General Hunton was for many years a member, and will be conducted by the rector, the Rev. R. W. Forsyth, and Bishop A. M. Randolph, of the Diocese of Southern Virginia.

To Have Honorary Escort. Honorary pall-bearers, representing Lee Camp, will be Lieutenant-Commander Clay Drewry, Judge George L. Christian, Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Elyson, Joseph W. Thomas, Congressman John Lamb, Lewis H. Blair, D. O. Davis and Dr. R. G. Crouch. Other honorary pall-bearers will be Judge James Keith, Major J. D. McIntyre, Dr. C. W. P. Brock, Joseph Bryan, Dr. George Ben Johnston, Hon. William H. White, ex-Governor A. J. Montague, Major Robert W. Hunter, Judge L. L. Lewis, Colonel W. Miles Cary, John L. Williams, Hon. Henry Fairfax, Judge E. S. Turner, J. A. C. Keith, Judge J. B. Thornton, Colonel Robert Lee, Jr., Colonel Joseph E. Willard, Judge John H. Ingram and Major Charles S. Stringfellow.

The active pall-bearers will be E. G. Leitch, Judge R. Carter Scott, Walter W. Branch, Hon. William H. White, Henry W. Anderson, Judge Samuel B. Witt, W. H. Urquhart and Bradley S. Johnston.

Simple services will be conducted at the grave by Mr. Forsyth. The infantry will fire a salute of three volleys, the Howitzers the salute of eleven guns, and the Blues the salute of eleven guns, and taps will be sounded across the city of the dead, as with muffled drums the military makes its way from the cemetery.

The case was appealed from the Corporation Court of the city of Norfolk, where K. D. Taylor, a local drug clerk, was convicted of having cocaine in his possession, and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. It appears that the record in the case is incomplete, and that for this reason the application was refused. It shows that the verdict of the jury was properly returned, but there is no record that judgment was entered.

Taylor is alleged to have ordered a quantity of the drug from a New York house to be shipped to a point in North Carolina, but a mistake was made, and the consignment came to Norfolk. The express company declined to reship the package, and Taylor refused to receive it. He is alleged to have sent a friend to have the package shipped to a North Carolina point. This friend was arrested, but Taylor came to his rescue, assuming all responsibility, with the result given above. The cocaine laws in Virginia were made very stringent by the last Legislature, and there have already been a number of convictions under them. Unless Taylor gets a reprieve, he will probably serve his term.

Prominent Callers. Among the prominent visitors in the city yesterday were Hon. J. M. Bousman, of Shenandoah, Republican commissioner, and Judge J. C. Shepherd, of Virginia.

BISHOP PEEKS ST. PETER'S FAIR

Expresses Best Wishes for Success of Benefit Entertainment at Armory.

BLAZE OF LIGHT AND COLOR

Many Attractive Booths, Artistically Arranged, Attract Many Visitors.

Hundreds of people crowded the drill room of the First Regiment Armory last night for the opening of the carnival for the benefit of St. Peter's Catholic Church and rectory, which will continue until October 25th. The affair was opened with a speech by the Rev. Augustin Van de Vyver, who was introduced by the Rev. Father J. J. Bowler, pastor of St. Peter's Church. Bishop Van de Vyver's speech was one of good wishes for the fair and the church. He said that he felt sure that the earnest workers would succeed in realizing from the carnival much more than was needed to cover the expenses. His appearance was greeted with much applause.

Those used to the usual bare aspect of the armory could hardly believe their eyes when they entered last night. The room was a blaze of light and color. From every vantage point there were streams of hunting and flags, beneath which were the eight booths, decorated with streamers and containing all the good things that could be desired. Every one was presided over by young women, whose entreaties to buy were almost irresistible. Then there were others who circulated through the crowd and brought in the stragglers from men too diffident to come within striking distance.

Many Attractive Booths. The booths are so arranged as to give ample space for the largest crowd, thus avoiding the cramped conditions of a small room. The booths are arranged as follows: The Junior Auxiliary booth, in charge of Mrs. John Murphy, Jr., with Misses Dorothy Wood, Clara Monmouth, Myrtle Black, Lizette Ryall, Julia Ryall, Anne Reddy, Margaret Muller, Miriam Milhiser and Margaret Muller. The booth contains a beautiful collection of beautiful, artistic and useful things.

The "Country Store" is the centre of attraction, owing to its variety of goods. The booth is under the management of Mrs. H. D. Donahoe, who has as her assistants Mesdames John Cummins, John A. Ryall, J. S. Disney, M. M. Donahoe, M. P. Murphy, W. O'Neill, Felix Keegan, James E. Powers, Owens, Kramer, M. Murphy, Baldwin, Mahoney, Fletcher, Ryan, Gallagher, Keegan, Donahoe, Tierney, Owens, Polley O'Neill Cummins, McCarthy, Lynch, Holloran, Powers, Gerring, McAvoy and Freeman.

The Italian booth, which presents a lively and attractive scene, is under the management of Mrs. R. F. Franchioni, with Mrs. F. J. Gilpin, Misses Moschetti, L. Cassata, A. L. Morra, J. Hepper, D. Marioni, H. Daley, Sadie Stein, Pingue and Rosa Panchetti.

The Children of Mary League is presided over by a number of young women, and offers innumerable attractions, chief of which is the sketching by artists of your "silhouette" while you wait. Miss Mary Hughes is in charge of the booth, and is assisted by Misses Mary Sweeney, Ellen Hogan, Mamie Keillher, Anne Dolan, Marie Powers, Pearl Kraft, Kain, Hulcher, Brian, Steinbrecher, Wright, Byrnes, Rosa Baker, Eva Mahoney, and others.

The decoration of the Matinee Euchre booth make it dazzling with scintillations and reflections. Mrs. W. P. Leaman is in charge, and is assisted by Mesdames Chris Manning, John Bay, John Bay, M. T. Bay, Frank Nott, Signa, Reardon, Batt, Meyers, Hart, Smith, Gray, P. H. McKinley, Misses Beatrice Canepa, Anna McDonald, Helen McDonald and Messrs. C. A. Canepa, Frank Nott, W. P. Leaman and P. H. McKinley.

The Land of Japan booth makes one think of the flowery kingdom, and offers many of its dainty and artistic wares. The booth is under the management of the Misses A. Fratta, D. Stevens, M. D. Archer, Pearl Johnson and Mrs. A. Simonpietri.

The candy booth is the magnet around which all revolve, as it is in the centre of the hall.

Though Paying Has Been Completed Material Remains in Bank Street.

Much criticism is heard on the part of downtown business men concerning the fact that though the paving work on Main Street has been completed, there are still great piles of stone and dust on the north side of the road.

Sues Street Car Company. Suits were instituted yesterday in the City Circuit Court by Mary Duke and Agnes McCarthy against William Northrop and Henry T. Wickham, receivers of the Passenger and Power Company, and against the Richmond Transfer Company for damages laid in the sum of $1,000 each. No declaration was filed.

Suit was also instituted by William Keen against the Southern Railway Company for damages laid at $2,000.

JUDGE LEWIS MAY INTRODUCE TAFT

Horse Show Building Secured for Republican Candidate on Saturday Night.

GREAT DEMAND FOR SEATS

Reception Committees to Meet Distinguished Guest and Escort Him from Station.

Preparations for the reception of Judge William H. Taft on Saturday night will be under way, and the arrangements when completed will provide for the accommodation of one of the largest crowds that has ever gathered under one roof in the city of Richmond. It was definitely decided yesterday that the speaking would be held in the Horse Show Building, and work has already been started to get it in readiness for the event. One of the best indications of the crowd will be as large as ever seen here is shown by the fact that the Passenger and Power Company has made arrangements for the same car service as that provided during the State Fair.

The new structure building will be profusely decorated with bunting, flags and pictures. The speaker's platform will be erected at the end of the building under the old band stand. The acoustics were tested yesterday, and it was found that the new building could distinctly hear the voice of the speaker. Special arrangements have been made for women and their escorts. Separate sections are to be made for the colored people, with a special entrance and exit. Besides using the entire seating capacity of the building as it stands, 2,000 chairs will be placed in the arena.

Lewis May Introduce Him. Though full arrangements have not yet been made, it is positively known that Judge Taft will be introduced by either Postmaster Royal E. Cabell or United States District Attorney L. L. Lewis, and the indications point to the latter. At all events, Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith, who was at first mentioned as the man to make the introduction, has gone to New York, and it is now thought that perhaps, being a member of the reception committee.

Judge Taft is expected to arrive here over the Southern Railway on a special train from Greensboro, N. C. He will be met at the station by the reception committee, consisting of prominent citizens and officers of the various political clubs, in automobiles. He will be escorted by the committee to his hotel, and will be taken to the Horse Show Building, where the speech will be made. The makeup of the committee has not yet been decided upon, but the probabilities are that it will number among its members some of the prominent Democrats, as well as Republicans and Taft Democrats.

The event will be thoroughly advertised. A detail of twenty policemen and fifty special officers will have charge of the building on the night of the speaking. Behind the building will turn out in this city alone, a great number of persons will be here from nearby sections of the State. In some cases special cars have been chartered for the occasion. There is little doubt that every seat in the great building will be taken before Judge Taft makes his appearance on the platform.

WIDOW OF HUGH C. MERCER SUES INSURANCE COMPANY. The suit of Mrs. Etta Mercer, widow of Hugh C. Mercer, former deputy clerk of the City Circuit Court, against the South Atlantic Life Insurance Company was heard yesterday before Judge Ingram and a jury in the Law and Equity Court. Mr. Mercer held a policy on his life for $1,000. Payment of the death claim has been refused on the ground of certain irregularities in the company's connection with this booth is under the supervision of Mrs. A. W. Johnston, assisted by Miss Alice Corbin, while Misses McIntyre and Werth are the stenographic artists.
